FREE PODCAST Middle East Meltdown with Jerry Robinson

Listen Now

With the U.S. on the precipice of a new explosive war with Iran, economist Jerry Robinson digs deeper into the latest provocations rocking the Middle East. In his usual "follow the money" style, Jerry gets straight to the heart of the matter and reminds his listeners that the petrodollar system lies at the heart of U.S. foreign policy.

Buckle up for this hard-hitting show that exposes the truth about America's true intentions in the Middle East.

TRADING IDEA: U.S. Oil ETF (USO) Could Return 1%-5% In 1 To 5 Days

The United States Oil Fund (USO) is an exchange-traded security designed to track the daily price movements of West Texas Intermediate ("WTI") light, sweet crude oil. It's a much simpler way to gain exposure to the price of U.S. oil prices without having to wade into the commodity futures market. Oil prices have been on the move amid rising tensions in the Middle East after the recent attacks on Saudi Arabia's oil fields. With more questions than answers regarding these attacks available to traders, oil prices may have more upside as the smart money remains jittery with no clear resolution on the table.

We added shares of USO to our P.A.C.E. ETF model portfolio on Friday after we detected a new Position uptrend. USO is finally looking bullish on both its daily and weekly charts after topping out near $16.00 last September.

With solid support in the $10.50-$11 range, USO's new Position uptrend could certainly keep rising, though the $14 level could pose significant overhead resistance without another major upside catalyst. Of course, for this shorter-term trade, we are only looking for a quick 1%-5% gain and will not hold all the way down to the key support level.

ACTION: We will look to add shares of USO to our Daily Trading model portfolio as a short term swing trade if the trigger price of $12.37 is reached, with a maximum buy price of $12.50. If triggered, we will immediately place an initial stop-loss order at $11.48.

For all of my working life I have attempted to earn more than an average income. While supporting a large family, it was always difficult to develop enough discretionary income to invest or build a business, even though I attempted to do so a few times, with little success and a loss of needed retirement savings. I am now newly retired with enough income to make ends meet, but not by much. This book has given me new hope and a much more indepth understanding of financial concepts that I've never fully understood until this reading. I intend to begin implementing the principles taught by Mr. Robinson, that will allow me to improve my retirement and financial future. This book has been a wealth of great information and above all was easy to read and understand.

As central banks increasingly turn to negative interest rates to battle slowing economic growth, they are also stockpiling physical gold at a rate unseen in decades. So too, many retail investors are turning to physical gold as a hedge against rising investment uncertainty. Is physical gold still a good long-term investment today? And what about other precious metals, like silver, palladium, and platinum? In this special 30 minute live online event, we will explore those topics and more with precious metals advisor Tom Cloud. With more than 40 years of experience in the precious metals industry, Tom will deliver his insider's perspective and outlook on gold, silver, palladium, and platinum.

LONG-TERM TREND

Long-Term Trend for Long-Term Investors

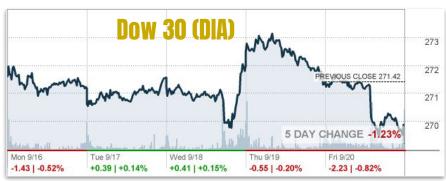

Market Commentary by Jerry Robinson

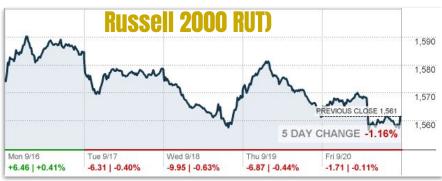

The S&P 500's Position uptrend is fully intact as it sits just below a new all-time high and is supported by a Long-Term uptrend. The S&P 500 index suffered more whipsaw trading action last week. On Thursday, the index surged close to its former all-time high of $3025 before faltering later in the day. The losses spanned into Friday after China's visiting trade delegation abruptly canceled a visit to U.S. farms. Investors perceived this as a sign that a trade deal was still out of reach for the two countries. Meanwhile, the Federal Reserve announced its second interest rate cut of the year last week. On Wednesday, the Fed decided to cut rates by another 25 basis points and signaled that more rate cuts could come before the end of 2019. The financial media reported that this new rate cut was contentious amid rising tensions between Fed board members, with some seeking larger cuts and others seeking no cuts at all. Last week's rate cut decision brought the target range for the central bank's... (Keep reading)

S&P 500 Holds 14 EMA Support After Failing At $3025 Resistance

The S&P 500's Position uptrend is fully intact as it sits just below a new all-time high and is supported by a Long-Term uptrend.

The S&P 500 index slipped nearly 1% last week on news that the closely-watched U.S.-China trade talks ended on a more sour note than investors had hoped.

The index closed at $2992 on Friday, just below its former all-time high of $3025 reached in late July. Year-to-date, the index has risen more than 19%. Read more
